

Managing Drinking Water Systems in First Nations

A course designed for First Nations management who have operational responsibility for drinking water systems.
Complimentary registration, and reimbursement of expenses

This course is designed as an introduction to management practices related to the drinking water systems in First Nation communities. The course will explore the origin and structure of various management structures and strategies, discuss these strategies and provide a foundation for decision makers to explore potential improvements in their individual management practices.

September 19, 2019
Manitoulin Hotel & Conference Centre
8:30am - 4:30pm

Call 866-515-0550 X311 to register
Or fax a registration form to 519-881-4947

This course is provided through the partnership between:

